Important Note About Special Educational Needs

Parents are required to disclose all information relevant to their child's special education needs during the application for admission process. Students with mild special education needs may be admitted on the basis that any differentiation or accommodation required to support the student falls within the professional capabilities of the teaching staff at the school.

It is imperative that parents of student admitted with mild special education needs understand the importance of family and home support for, and contributions towards, their child's educational needs. The school expects parents to be involved with supporting their child's needs and also expects full parent support of, and cooperation with, teachers.

Please note that Doshisha International School, Kyoto does not currently employ a Special Educational Needs specialist and the school cannot consider applications of students with learning difficulties in need of special accommodations.
